Defenders of Java Gird for Climactic Assault from Sea

Pledge That United States Would Take Offensive "Soon" Arouses Shining New Hope in the Anti-Axis Lands as New Drive Is Anticipated

CHURCHILL ADMITS JAP AIR SUPERIORITY

BY ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

President Roosevelt's pledge that the United States would take the offensive "soon" aroused shining new hope in the anti-Axis lands today as defenders of Java girded for a climactic assault by Japan's sea-borne invaders.

London newspapers gave the president's speech an enthusiastic endorsement, with the Daily Sketch commenting that Mr. Roosevelt "gave the world a tremendous message of confidence and cheer—never has America faced greater dangers than she does today, never has she shown such invincible ability to meet them."

Axis reaction was typified by Domei, official Japanese news agency, which asserted that the address was like "a pep talk by an irate football coach" and that "a noteworthy commentary was furnished by the report that a Japanese (Turn to Page Seven)

COMMANDER IN BURMA SHIFTED

BULLETIN
London, Feb. 24—(AP)—British troops have withdrawn to the west bank of the Sittoung river after inflicting heavy casualties on the Japanese troops invading Burma, the all India radio said today, quoting official accounts.

London, Feb. 24—(AP)—Britain made her commander in chief in India responsible today for operations in Burma, indicating that the steady advance of the Japanese had made the defense of the two great British possessions a single military problem.

An announcement in New Delhi said the India commander, General Sir Alan Fleming Hartley, had assumed direction of the bitterly-contested campaign in which the Japanese are approaching Rangoon and the railway that feeds the Burma road.

The shift in command was said to have been one result of the visit to India of China's generalissimo, Chiang Kai-Shek.

The Japanese have thrown fresh troops into the mounting Burma offensive which has driven the British back upon the Sittoung river, last natural barrier guarding the Rangoon-Lashio railway which feeds the Burma road, a military commentator declared today. Presumably Japanese forces freed by the fall of Singapore now have joined the invasion of Burma.

London, Feb. 24—(AP)—Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek has accepted an invitation to join the Pacific war council, an official British spokesman announced today.

Vichy, Unoccupied France, Feb. 24—(AP)—Edouard Daladier, one-time premier of France and one of the five defendants in the Riom war guilt trial, was ill of influenza today and unable to attend the trial which resumed for its third day after a weekend recess.

London, Feb. 24—(AP)—The British government "is in favor of India's political freedom," Lord Cranborne, colonial secretary, stated today in the house of lords.

Canberra, Australia, Feb. 24—(AP)—A medium force of Japanese bombers accompanied by fighters raided Port Moresby, principal coastal city in Papua, New Guinea, an air ministry communique announced.

Cairo, Egypt, Feb. 24—(AP)—British desert patrols scouting Axis positions southwest and south of Tmimi routed small enemy parties today.

Tokyo (From Japanese Broadcasts) Feb. 24—(AP)—Japanese army bombers caused widespread damage in a series of assaults against United States positions in the Samar mountains of Bataan Peninsula during the last two days, Domei reported today in a dispatch from a Japanese Philippine base.

RELIEF OF LENINGRAD EXPECTED

Vichy Broadcast Quotes German Radio as Saying That Russians Are Engaged in Biggest Offensive of War With Armies Nearing Smolensk

RETREATING NAZIS BURNING EVERYTHING

By the Associated Press

Russia's armies drove a spearhead against the heart of the German "escape corridor" from Moscow today, sharply threatening the main Nazi route of retreat with the capture of Dorogobuzh, only 15 miles south of the Moscow-Smolensk railroad, midway between Vyazma and Smolensk.

Dorogobuzh is 50 miles east of Smolensk, key German base on the Moscow front.

A Vichy (French) radio broadcast quoted the German radio as saying the Russians had launched their biggest offensive of the war and that relief of long-besieged Leningrad was expected at any moment.

Soviet front-line dispatches said the Germans were burning everything in their retreat on the central front.

At the same time, the British radio reported that the Red armies had also captured the town of Pannino, 14 miles north of the beleaguered Nazi base at Rzhev.

Adolf Hitler's field headquarters again gave a vague account of fighting, asserting that "at various points, formations of the army and air force repulsed more enemy attacks."

German night raiders were credited by the high command with setting big fires in the Russian fortress at Sevastopol, in the Crimea.

GREED CALLED NO. 1 SABOTEUR IN THE NATION

Philadelphia, Feb. 24—(AP)—Greed and inefficiency were held up by a U. S. senator and a shipbuilders' union head as the nation's No. 1 industrial saboteurs today.

From his home across the Delaware river at Camden, N. J., John Green, international president of the Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America (CIO) wrote President Roosevelt that production in his line is falling off as much as 50 per cent because of a strong suspicion that "the employers are not so much interested in production as they are in accumulating profits."

Senator Harry S. Truman (D-Mo.) in a George Washington's day speech last night, asserted that the senate defense committee (Turn to Page Seven)

CHIEF DECLARES OLD AMMUNITION IN USE

Washington, Feb. 24—(AP)—Rear Admiral W. H. P. Blandy, chief of the navy's bureau of ordnance, said today that the navy was using some ammunition made more than a decade ago, but added that "mere age is no criterion of its effectiveness."

He appeared before the house naval committee at an inquiry ordered as a result of a radio report quoting an unidentified naval lieutenant as saying that anti-aircraft ammunition aboard his ship in the Pacific was made in 1930 and was only 30 per cent effective.

Blandy said that both he and Navy Secretary Knox were "very seriously concerned" over the report and added, "I am not going to stop until I get full information."

'We, Not They, Will Win the Final Battles'

President Roosevelt emphasized his speech on progress of the war by pointing to the mid-Pacific, where the United States first felt the enemy blow. Mr. Roosevelt promised in a fighting speech that the Allies soon would take the offensive.

Dinner for Former Governor Earle May Clarify Situation

Harrisburg, Feb. 24—(AP)—With Governor James' request for broad war powers idle in committee for the time being, chief interest in the legislature centered today in the house-approved congressional reapportionment bill up for debate in the senate.

Both Republicans and Democrats expressed the belief the measure would be finally passed Wednesday and sent to the governor, over taken opposition of senators from affected districts.

Today's senate session was called for 2 p. m.—the house for 3 p. m.

The bill, passed 163 to 17 in the house, would cut a Republican district from the northern tier and a Democratic district from the southwestern section of the state. One congressman would run at large. It was drawn up by a bipartisan committee of five senators and five representatives after the 1941 legislature died.

Some senators said they would vote for an amendment to rip out a Philadelphia district to reduce the state's delegation from Washington from 24 to 33 as required (Turn to Page Seven)

SABER DUELISTS REACH ACCORD BOTH WOUNDED ON LEND-LEASE

BY RAFAEL ORDORICA

Buenos Aires, Feb. 24—(AP)—Sabers clashed at dawn today and when the duel had ended, the chairman of Argentina's "Dies committee" and the retired army colonel he had criticized were led bleeding from the field of honor.

Raul Lamonte Taborda, head of a congressional committee investigating subversive activities, was wounded twice in the right arm.

His 51-year-old antagonist, Col. Enrique Rottler, had a saber slash in the chest and two other wounds in his right arm.

The colonel, who had demanded satisfaction for an election campaign remark, had demanded sabers despite the civilian Damonte Taborda's insistence on pistols.

Rottler, claiming he was the aggrieved party, had the choice of weapons.

Both combatants were visibly tired as their seconds sutured their wounds and led them from the field of honor on a secluded estate outside Buenos Aires.

WILL SUBMIT APPOINTMENTS ON WEDNESDAY

Harrisburg, Feb. 24—(AP)—A group of important appointments made by Governor James will be submitted to the senate for confirmation on Wednesday, Senator Howard I. James (R-Bucks) said today.

Included in the list, said the chairman of the executive nominations committee, will be Secretary of Commerce Mark S. James and members of the Philadelphia registration commission.

The senator added a decision is out to be reached on whether to submit John McKee, chairman of the State Milk Control Commission, and members of the recently-named Pittsburgh registration commission.

As for the past three sessions, the committee will withhold the name of Col. Lynn G. Adams, state police commissioner. Col. Adams has been actively opposed by Democrats and has been re-named by the governor after each session. He incurred enmity in 1938 by taking a hand in a grand jury investigation of campaign charges.

Republicans, while controlling the senate for legislative purposes, lack two-thirds majority for confirming James' appointments. Consequently (Turn to Page Seven)

DEFENSE WORKERS OUT

San Pedro, Calif., Feb. 24—(AP)—The day shift, 3500 members of the CIO Shipyard Workers Union of America, walked off the job of building $81,000,000 worth of destroyers for the U. S. Navy after eight hours yesterday. They said Bethlehem Steel Co. demanded that they work 10 hour shifts. Whether 1500 fellow employees quit the night shift after eight hours, or worked 10, was not reported.

Navy Department Reports The Truxtun and the U. S. S. Pollux Have Run Aground Off the Coast Of Newfoundland With Heavy Toll of Personnel

GO TO PIECES UNDER HEAVY SEA POUNDING

West Palm Beach, Fla., Feb. 24—(AP)—An American-owned tanker, the 5,287-ton Republic, of Houston, Texas, was torpedoed by an enemy submarine off the southeast coast with an apparent loss of five lives.

Twenty-eight survivors, two of them slightly injured, were brought ashore, the navy announced today.

The 392-foot Republic was owned by the Petroleum Navigation Company of Houston. The navy did not make public the spot at which she was attacked by two torpedoes from the enemy raider.

Washington, Feb. 24—(AP)—A United States destroyer and a naval stores ship have been pounded to pieces off the rocky east coast of Newfoundland in a raging gale, the navy announced today, with a loss of at least 139 officers and crew.

Among the dead was Lieutenant Commander Ralph Hickox, 38, of Washington, D. C., who commanded the destroyer, the Truxtun, an old four-stacker of World War vintage. The commander of the stores ship, the Pollux, was not identified but the navy reported him safe.

The heavy loss of life was attributed to the fact that the two ships, constituting a portion of a convoy, were torn to wreckage under the merciless battering of the sea and wave very quickly after they ran aground.

The double disaster occurred in daylight but visibility was extremely poor (From Page Seven)

Reports Persist That Ex-Ambassador to Bulgaria Is Being Urged to Back Harmony Slate in Democratic Party

Harrisburg, Feb. 24—(AP)—Arthur Colegrove, Democratic leader in northwestern Pennsylvania, today linked David L. Lawrence and Auditor General F. Clair Ross with reports of "peddling of appointments to state jobs" to members of the state committee in the campaign for governor but said recent developments make it less likely that the committee "will yield to the patronage pressure demand."

Colegrove, publisher of the Corry Evening Journal and a member of former Governor George H. Earle's cabinet, made the comment in an editorial in his newspaper as party leaders came to the capital for a homecoming dinner for Earle, which took on added significance because of the developing political situation.

Harrisburg, Feb. 24—(AP)—A homecoming dinner for former Governor George H. Earle took on added significance today as friends expressed hope for a clarification of his status in the red hot Democratic primary fight.

U-Boat Fires Fifteen Shells Toward Oil Field on Coast

Washington, Feb. 24—(AP)—The war department announced today that army and navy aircraft and surface vessels have started a search for the enemy submarine which shelled the Bunkline oil refinery near Ellwood, Calif., last night.

(A war department communique said 25 rounds of 5-inch shells were fired.)

The department's communique said damage from the shelling was slight, and no casualties were reported. The submarine, apparently Japanese, fired 25 rounds of five-inch shells at the refinery, the department said.

In the Philippine fighting, the department said, there was no ground activity on either side in the last twenty-four hours but enemy aircraft dropped a number of incendiary bombs.

Santa Barbara, Calif., Feb. 24—(AP)—An enemy submarine fired its reply to President Roosevelt's war address in the very middle of his chat last night 25 shells badly aimed toward an oil field and refinery near Goleta, seven miles north of here.

Witnesses said the shells, presumably of the shrapnel type, exploded large volumes of dirt from beaches and pastures, frightened horses into screaming madly—but hit only one well. The pumping plant and derrick of that well were damaged. However, no fires were started, no one was killed or injured.

It was the first attack upon United States soil in this war, although Japanese submarines off the Pacific coast and German submarines off the Atlantic coast have sunk some ships and damaged others.

Once before, in the World War, a German submarine disguised as a freighter, shelled the mainland in an attack on a tug and a string of barges off Orleans, Mass. Only casualty was a helmsman, who lost part of a hand.

Witnesses said the first shell was fired at 7:10 p. m. (10:10 p. m. EWT) and that the attack continued until 7:35 p. m. twilight.

The coast was blacked out at 8 p. m., from Goleta 25 miles south to Carpinteria. The all clear was given at 12:12 a. m. (3:12 a. m. EWT).

Several flares were sighted just off the coast during the blackout. Police at Ventura, 27 miles south (Turn to Page Seven)

Pearl Harbor Losses Not as High as Given Out at First

Washington, Feb. 24—(AP)—President Roosevelt's report on Pearl Harbor last night indicated American losses considerably lower than the previous official totals.

Here is the comparison:

	FDR	Previous	Decrease	Increase
Ships lost	3	5	2
Men killed	2,340	2,807	467
Men wounded	945	1,000	55

Earlier last night Wendell L. Willkie said at Cleveland that the navy department should give the American people the "whole truth" on the Pearl Harbor attack.

TOP CARD IS USUAL LEAD TO INDICATE SHORT, WEAK SUIT

BY WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

In my previous article I explained that in opening blind from a tripton, the lowest card is the correct lead if the holding is topped by ace, king or queen (without a second honor in sequence).

With any less strength at the top, the top card is usually led in order to disclose at once that the holding is short and has no high card in support of a return lead by partner.

The blind lead of a ten usually indicates an "interior" sequence, such as K-10-9-2, or Q-10-9-2. To preserve this reading, we lead the deuce, not the ten, from 10-9-3-2, against no trump.

Some players for the same reason prefer the lead of the deuce from holding No. 52. But this is pressing a principle to extremes. After all, we lead the ten from 10-9-8-2, 10-9-2 and 10-2, none of which has a higher honor.

| Holding    | Lead |
|------------|------|
| 51. 10-9-2 | 10   |
| 52. 10-3-2 | 10   |
| 53. 10-2   | 10   |
| 54. 9-8-2  | 9    |
| 55. 9-3-2  | 9    |
| 56. 9-2    | 9    |
| 57. 4-3-2  | 4    |
| 58. 3-2    | 3    |

It would seem better in leading from any short holding to try to indicate at once that it is short, rather than to try to save one situation in which the ten-lead is necessarily ambiguous.

I am frequently asked if it is correct to lead the middle card from certain three-card holdings. What usually happens is that my correspondent, Mr. A., has seen such a lead made by Mr. B. and upon being questioned, Mr. B. insists that the middle card is the only correct lead. Mr. A. then writes to me. I have to reply that the lead may be correct for Mr. B. but probably is not for Mr. A.

The reason for this answer is that in certain parts of the country, the players use a convention called "the three-card echo." This involves a different system of leads from short holdings and a different system of responses.

If you are using this system in all its phases, then it is correct for you to lead a middle card, but it is foolish to single out one point of the system, practice that, and expect to be understood by the vast majority of players who use the system of leads I have outlined in these articles. I do not want to argue the merits of the "three-card echo" as against the more universal system, but I do say that the player has to follow one system or the other in its entirety.

CORRECT RESPONSE TO LEAD MAY GAIN ADDITIONAL TRICKS
Selection of the correct lead, in response to your partner's opening lead, is often as vital to successful defense as the choice of the opening lead itself.

"Response" is a card played (in following suit or in discarding) to give your partner some information. The response is usually a small card, since you are making no effort to win a trick, but the principles of responding can sometimes be used in leading a winner to get the same sort of information across to partner.

At any time that you follow suit with, or discard, your lowest card of a suit, you say to your partner, "I have no reason to ask you to lead this suit." Many beginners think this response means "Don't lead this suit!" but the notion is erroneous. The "negative response" of the lowest card means, "I have no reason to direct your play—use your own judgment."

The "positive response" is the play of an unnecessarily high card, when making no effort to win a trick. It says, "Partner, continue this suit, or lead this suit when you get in," or "I have a stopper in this suit," according to circumstances.

Some players believe that the positive response always shows a high card in the suit. This is not necessarily so. The response is a command to partner. "Please let me direct the defense at this point."

Usually you ask for the lead of

THAT FAR OFF WAR

That far off war came to the west coast of the United States last evening even as President Roosevelt was declaring that the nation could expect to suffer continuing losses at the hands of the Axis undersea raiders "before the turn of the tide."

Before this shelling occurred, Willis Thornton, NEA editorial writer, had typed the following thought-provoking article for the Times-Mirror and other clients:

The people of the United States are at war. Right now they are losing the war. They say they know their own continent is in danger of attack, their own nation menaced. But do they know it? Do they admit the possibility that one dark night a bomb may drop on their children as they sleep, that one fine day the Jap may come marching or "filtering" down the street in front of their office? Do they honestly tell themselves that they may have to meet, personally, the physical dangers of war?

No, of course not. The war is still far off. It is something happening to MacArthur's Magnificents on Bataan, to the doughty Dutch in the Indies, to the fighting Russians and Chinese. Yes, and to the bombed and beleaguered British.

In India last year and the year before the debates in Calcutta and Bombay did not center on the defense of China. Self-government was the main subject. The amount of aid to be given Britain was another. But the defense of India herself was not seriously considered.

Now the Jap is next door. He is fighting in Burma, more than two thousand miles from his home islands—and little more than two hundred miles from the eastern fringes of India. Tokyo talks to India of "India for Indians," but Indian leaders well know that the Jap will come in and bomb their babies and rob them of their riches if they can do the job. They know it now. But they did not know it last year.

In Australia last year and the year before the debates in Canberra did not center on the defense of Australia. Conscription and the amount of aid to be given Britain were Parliament's main concern. Defense of Australia was little more than a rhetorical question.

Now the Jap is next door. He is fighting in Timor, three thousand miles from his home islands—and three hundred miles from northern Australia. Tokyo has already promised to "Japanize" this island continent.

The lesson for the United States is plain:

Fight this war to the fullest right now. Whip the potential invader while he is attempting to take the far off lands of others. Failing that, be ready to fight the enemy right here in America. Be ready to meet the physical horrors of war face to face.

News that Leslie R. Hayes, former well known and popular Warren young man, had been found asphyxiated in his apartment in Corry Monday afternoon was received with profound sorrow by a host of friends of the victim and his family. The tragedy furnishes another grim reminder of the danger that exists in using pipeless gas stoves for heating purposes.

LENTEN SERMONETTE
THE BEAUTY OF HOLINESS
Rev. L. W. Drury, Pilgrim Holiness Church

Worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness.—Psalm 29:2.

Holiness of heart and life is not an abnormal or strained manner of living. Holiness is a truly normal life. Sin in any form is unnatural and abnormal to man. Only when the heart has been purified and made clean can the Christian life blossom forth in its complete beauty. Just like an apple tree in the spring of the year blossoms forth in complete beauty when the sap rises, so the Christian life becomes beautiful when the Holy Spirit anoints and indwells the life. One divinely inspired writer said, "Holiness becometh Thy House, O Lord, forever." If holiness becomes the house of God, it is also becoming to the people of God. Scripture says, "Ye are the temple of the living God, as God hath said. I will dwell in them, and walk in them, and I will be their God and they shall be my people."

It is this blessed experience of sanctification (or holiness) that is the paramount need of all Christians in this perplexed world today. It is the only experience that will establish God's people, and make them more than conquerors. The sainted John Wesley exhorted all his preachers to preach perfection to believers constantly, strongly and explicitly.

The beauty of holiness lies in the fact that it unifies God's people. The problem of human relationship is one of the most difficult to solve. The only real answer lies in the prayer of our blessed Master recorded in John 17, where He prays, "Sanctify them through thy truth, thy word is truth." This was to be accomplished for the purpose of producing unity, "that they may be one," said Jesus, "as we are one." Holiness is the greatest unifying force in the world.

"Blessed are the pure in heart,
For they shall see our God;
The secret of the Lord is theirs;
Their soul is His abode." —John Keble.

EDSON'S WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON
Times-Mirror Washington Correspondent

Washington, Feb. 24.—A big "spring production drive" is to be launched soon by Donald M. Nelson's 1942 model War Production Board.

Coming, too, is Nelson's first "Production Communique" which will show just how much progress has been made in arming the country. The report will not tell how many planes and tanks and guns have been manufactured, but by a series of index numbers based on the war production for December, 1941, which will be put at 100, the percentage of increase in war production will be indicated. The idea, of course, is to tell the general public just what is being done without revealing detailed military production secrets.

This spring production drive, coupled with the first production report since Pearl Harbor, will give the real indication of how effective Nelson's one-man control and responsibility for administration of war production has been going. It is just a month since Nelson announced his reorganization. That isn't much time in which to convert the country's economics from defense to offense, but it is possible even now to point out definite WPB accomplishments.

1. Most tangible is the fact that five major industries are being converted from civilian to war production—automobiles, radios, refrigerators, typewriters and washing machines. The program in the auto industry calls for complete conversion and civilian production here has been stopped. Severe limitations have been put on civilian production in all the others, and WPB is working with War Department to assign these industries definite war production tasks. In refrigerators and radios, dates have been set for complete conversion in April.

2. Nelson has completed his reorganization of the old OPM and has shown that the new WPB is not just a shift of names with the same old faces running the show under new billing. There is a different attitude and a new approach to the war production job. This is perhaps intangible, but it can be pointed out that under the old OPM, the brass hats never really tried to alibi inability to get anything done because their organization was faulty, or because they didn't have the authority to do the job, or because too many divisions shared or didn't know their responsibility. Nelson has changed all that. He has given the outfit a different tone, pepped it up, improved morale. The word he passes on to his principal assistants now is that if the organization goes sour from here on, no one is to be blamed but the WPB bosses themselves.

3. Procedure has been speeded up and this has been passed on to other agencies of the government cooperating with the WPB. Just recently, Nelson decided to put in a new 1200-ton blast furnace for pig iron production on the west coast, awarding the contract to the Henry J. Kaiser interests. The contract was cleared through the Defense Plant Corporation in 48 hours, a record that beat past performances not by days, but by weeks. Contracts for a new steel mill to use this pig iron are hot on the heels of the blast furnace job. That is typical. It marks a definite break with the old idea that present steel production capacity is adequate.

4. Nelson gets daily progress reports submitted to him every morning. If he sees schedules are not being maintained, a call goes to the division head to make a personal investigation and report. Top men are kept jumping around the country taking corks out of bottlenecks.

5. WPB's Planning division now has just been organized with young Robert Nathan as chairman. The division has not had time to show its stuff, but it is apparently to be more than a mere brain trust, gazing into the future. It is the intention to give this three-man committee specific problems of war production to think through and solve.

6. Nelson's recent action in giving aircraft production A-1-a priorities rating, along with tanks, ordnance and shipping, while designated as a purely organizational matter to remove a psychological barrier for aircraft procurement men, was in reality the first step of a much broader revision of the whole system of top ratings on materials priorities. Production schedules, in other words, are being completely recalculated to bring deliveries schedules on raw materials into line with military requirements on finished products for war.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER
New York—Virgilia Peterson is an American girl who married Prince Paul Sarscha of Poland and became a princess.

"Beyond This Shore" is a new novel about an American girl who marries a Polish diplomat, witnesses the destruction of Europe, and gets out with her children just in time.

Therefore, it was natural for me to induce how much of this book is autobiographical?"

She seemed surprised. "Why, none of it, and yet on the other hand all of it. I can write only about the things I know and have seen. It would have been like writing about a Romanian or a Hungarian when I am married to a Pole who lived in Warsaw, and when I know the Polish people and the conditions there."

I KNEW that she had recently lectured in a hundred cities, that she had written a best seller titled "Polish Profile" which was altogether autobiographical, that her husband and her children were in this country, that "Beyond This Shore" (Lippincott) was her first novel, that she was understandably on tender hooks until the arrival of her husband and his acceptance or rejection of her novel became plain, that she loathed appeasers and that she believed nothing less than an all-out effort... even by the women and the children, the halt and the lame... can win this war.

"That's what the girl in the novel thought, too, but I'm not that girl. I didn't fall in love with a newspaper man. That incident at the German embassy in Warsaw never really happened. I made it up. It isn't my story. It is just a story against a background of people and events that I know."

I said, "Princess, do you feel that people are complacent still about the war, I mean?"

"In a way," she replied, "there is danger in slogans. The one about time being on our side, especially. It isn't. Time runs against us. Why? Conquered people can go on being shot and seeing their children starved forever. It help doesn't come, and hope, and encouragement, they'll have to give in. A man can't endure ten years or five years of horror unless he knows that salvation is coming. The Dutch, the Belgians, the Czechs, they can't endure torture forever. We've got to hurry."

IT SEEMED strange to look at this young woman whose friends call her Jill, who went to Vassar and dreamed of becoming a writer—it seemed strange to think that as the wife of a prince she saw Austria crumble, and Czechoslovakia, then Poland, Holland, France....

To see her, you might think she had never been out of New York. She is tall and quick, both in speech and movement, and essentially American. You'd never know that at 20 she went down with infantile paralysis.

"It still bothers me a little," she said. "In Poland, where people place such emphasis on sports, I couldn't ride. My husband had such fine horses."

It may be, as she says, that it still bothers her. But as she moved about the room, answering a telephone here, a doorbell there, I thought she resembled nothing so much as a little tennis player. And a good one at that.

A WASHINGTON DAYBOOK

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON.—The efforts to stem the tide of humanity moving toward Washington by warning parasites to get out of town and moving a handful of government agencies to other cities have proved about as effective as trying to bail out the ocean with a sieve. The federal powers-that-be are now preparing to ACT.

The President has ordered a re-survey of personnel requirements for the balance of this fiscal year and the fiscal year 1942-43, on the basis of the new 44-hour work week. He says specifically that every man and woman not absolutely needed must be released for war work. He further has ordered that the Bureau of the Budget re-survey the entire government personnel set-up here and in the field, to determine the relationship of appropriations to necessary man-hours of work.

GOVERNMENT surveys are a dime a dozen. Under ordinary circumstances, there would be no reason to believe that either of the two mentioned would result in action. But there are important forces bearing down on the present situation. In the first place, there are many indications that the people of the United States—the voters—are fed up with government dalliance, delays, red tape and mismanagement in administration of this war. A few weeks ago and months before that, federal officials were screaming that the civilian population would have to forget "business as usual." Now a preponderance of the congressional and executive mail is stating in no uncertain terms that it is far past the time when elective and appointive officials should have forgotten "government as usual."

Secondly and just as important, because the men who make the laws and administer them are beginning to see it around them everyday, is that Washington is rapidly approaching the saturation point. It will not come because of lack of office space as serious as that condition has been and still is. It will come because of lack of housing.

AS IRONICAL as it may seem—come spring and summer, people with good jobs and money in their pockets may be sleeping in the capital parks because they cannot find homes. Ten years ago, homes were to be had for a mere promise to pay something—almost anything—and people were sleeping in the parks here because they had no jobs.

Already there are trailer towns from Hains Point to the suburbs of Maryland and Virginia. In unofficial circles, there is talk that tent cities will have to come next. (Next—What "Government for War" means to you and the government clerk.)

Timely Tips

Now that we are all getting up an hour earlier since adoption of daylight saving, or "wartime," there's no time like the present to answer these questions:

1. What is the big clock called in the tower over the Parliament Building in London?

2. Do all "hourglasses" reveal the passage of one hour?

3. When it is 1 p. m. in New York, what time is it in Denver, London, Los Angeles, St. Louis, Atlanta and Boston?

4. Complete these questions: "Time and — wait for no man." "There is a time and — for all things." "Time is of the —."

5. As all Swiss watches made in Switzerland or by Swiss watch-makers?

Dinner for Former Governor Earle May Clarify Situation

er to Bulgaria. He said he would prefer active duty in the navy to a resumption of his political career but reports persisted that he was being urged to back a harmony slate.

The first Democratic governor of Pennsylvania in a half century, Earle commanded a sub chaser during the first World War.

Sponsoring the dinner tonight in Harrisburg are the Young Democratic Clubs of Pennsylvania. Earle was listed as the principal speaker but the topic of his address was not disclosed. One friend said he expected an important announcement.

Senator John H. Dent (D-Westmoreland) called the senate's attention yesterday to the dinner and urged all "who can find time" to attend.

He particularly noted Earle's record abroad.

An earlier house resolution also felicitated Earle on his return and wished him "further success in his efforts as standard bearer for the Democratic party in Pennsylvania." It was introduced by Joseph P. Bradley (D-Northumberland) and James J. McLane (D-Luzerne).

They said bluntly that "he could do a better job towards winning the war at the state capital than he could do on the deck of a sub-chaser or mine sweeper."

Meantime at Pittsburgh, Common Pleas Judge Ralph H. Smith reported he was well pleased with progress of his candidacy for the Democratic nomination, declaring he had received numerous endorsements from party leaders in all districts of the state.

But, he said in an interview, he was confident that President Roosevelt's gigantic war production program not only would be attained, but "may be exceeded" this year. While statistics show it is lagging at this time, the senator went on, that slack is being taken up each month.

Truman warned in his speech that there can be no more "business as usual. There can be no more profits as usual. Labor will have to work longer and harder hours. There must be no more strikes."

Green urged that organized labor should be given a voice in cooperative efforts to iron out the difficulties of the rapidly expanding shipbuilding industry.

tremely low. The frothy currents set up by the dashing of the waters against rocks and reefs made the coastline indistinct and regular aids to navigation were obscured by low sweeping scud. The point at which the ships went aground was described as near the entrance to Lawrence Harbor on which is located the town of Lawrence, Newfoundland.

Residents of that place were praised by the navy for their heroic efforts in pulling such men as survived through the icy storm tossed seas to safety.

The certain dead aboard the Truxton were placed at 7 officers and 90 men and there was a possibility that three more deaths would be confirmed later, the navy said. Dead aboard the Pollux were 1 officer and 91 men.

The normal complement of the Pollux, a new 6,055-ton merchant vessel which had been taken over by the navy only last year, was not given.

Efforts to put lines ashore from the stricken vessels failed. A breeches buoy finally was rigged to a ledge at sea level, but some survivors were washed away before they could be gotten to the top of the cliff that lined the rocky coast.</

Distress In Many Parts Of World
Relieved By Bundles For Britain

The many workers who have so generously contributed their time and help during the past seventeen months to the local chapter of Bundles for Britain will no doubt be interested to hear of several letters that have been received at headquarters bringing to light numerous instances in which gifts of clothing and knitted articles from Bundles for Britain have helped to relieve distress in many parts of the world.

One of the latest of these is reported from St. Michael's Island in the Azores, where survivors from ships sunk in the far eastern Atlantic in December were completely outfitted with clothing from underwear to overcoats, from relief supplies sent by Bundles for Britain a month before, in anticipation of such an emergency.

Another date back to the battle of the Mediterranean when the British freighter Prince was sunk by enemy bombers, its crew of 127 reaching shore safely. On the day following their rescue, in the hills above Athens, Greece, two bales of knitted garments were brought to the men, most of whom had fought the last fight on their ship stripped to the waist. The bales had been stored in two of the lifeboats when the crew was outfitted in New York two weeks before the ship met its doom.

A letter from the American consulate at Ponta Delgada, brought first advice of the work of mercy in the Azores.

It was a photograph of a group of the survivors in their Bundles for Britain outfits snapped in the consulate gardens where they were entertained at tea. The men had lost all their belongings when their ships were sunk by Axis submarines and raiders. They had made safe landings on the coast of the islands after drifting helplessly for ten days in open boats and on rafts.

More than 6 million items of clothing for civilian war victims and knitted garments for the Allied forces were sent to Great Britain. The knitted comforts reached the British fighting men on land, sea, and in the air, at home and on the far-flung battlefront; in Greece, Russia, South Africa and the Far East. Relief supplies that go to England do not go to the British alone, for there are numerous Belgians, Poles, Hollanders, Norwegians and many who have found refuge and security in the midst of Britain's war and free people.

Bundles for Bluejackets, a newly formed division, is now devoted entirely to the aid and relief for our own American forces. Those who are not already interested and helping in this great work, are invited to come to Bundles for Bluejackets headquarters, 432 Pennsylvania avenue, west, for further information.

7. William L. Edson's Materials division will soon have new figures on the over-all requirements and production of aluminum and magnesium. These will be the first of a completely new series of estimates on the ultimate demands for raw materials needed to achieve the president's program for 185,000 planes, 120,000 tanks, 55,000 aircraft guns and so on, in the next two years.

When these new requirement figures are set, it will mark the first time that anyone will have any definite idea of what it is going to take to outproduce the Axis and win this war. Heretofore, Army, Navy, lease-lend and other procurement agencies have been working from day to day. As a result, shortages kept developing and hitting the production men in the face.

Now, however, the picture of where the country is and where it's going is gradually taking shape. That is Nelson's most important accomplishment to date.

OBJECTOR MAY GET ASSIGNMENT TO BURMA ROAD

One of the conscientious objectors from the Public Service camp at Red Bridge, near Kinross, may see action on the Burma Road, according to information received here.

He is Raymond Long, 25, of near Hagerstown, Md., who left a month ago to receive training at Camp Lagro, Ind., along with eleven other conscientious objectors from 22 camps over the nation.

Eight of the twelve are scheduled to go to the Burma Road, probably leaving in March, with the other four listed as alternates. Long is one of the alternates.

The training unit of Camp Lagro is under the supervision of the Brethren Service Committee, which functions at the 23 conscientious objectors' camps over the nation.

L. K. Ziegler, director of the Red Bridge camp, said other men are seeking special instructions to serve as firemen in London and other English towns and also that plans are under way for the establishment of special units along the west coast from Canada to Mexico.

The men to go to the Burma Road will have for their work the moving of unexploded bombs and similar tasks along with building and reconstruction of roads—work which will release other men for armed duty. Nature of the special units along the west coast was not divulged.

The men will continue in their status of conscientious objectors in the work which does not conflict with their beliefs against military training and service. It was said they will continue under sponsorship of the various peace churches, with transportation, equipment, food and clothing furnished by the churches.

It was stated that the group to leave Camp Lagro would depart as soon as their trucks and tools were secured. Such work, it was explained, is arranged with presidential approval. All work in which men are engaged is required to come under the status of "national importance." At the Red Bridge camp the men are working in the Allegheny National Forest under the supervision of forest officials.

The Red Bridge camp now houses approximately 140 men, 20 of whom arrived there last week. Most of the men are from Pennsylvania and from the Church of the Brethren. A few are from outside the state and from other churches and sects. They work on a 40-hour week schedule on a no-pay basis with all costs borne by the sponsoring church.

BEATY SCHOOL
GYM EXHIBITION
OPENS TONIGHT

We saw them yesterday afternoon in the final complete rehearsal—more than 200 girls and boys polishing up for the big Gymnastic Exhibition and Physical Education Demonstration being held in the Beaty Gym tonight and tomorrow night. I went over there expecting to be mildly entertained; I was amazed at the spectacle which cannot be duplicated in any city in this section of the country. The Beaty gym show has built up a reputation for itself in past years but this year's performance is outstanding in skill, in coordination in proficiency and human interest.

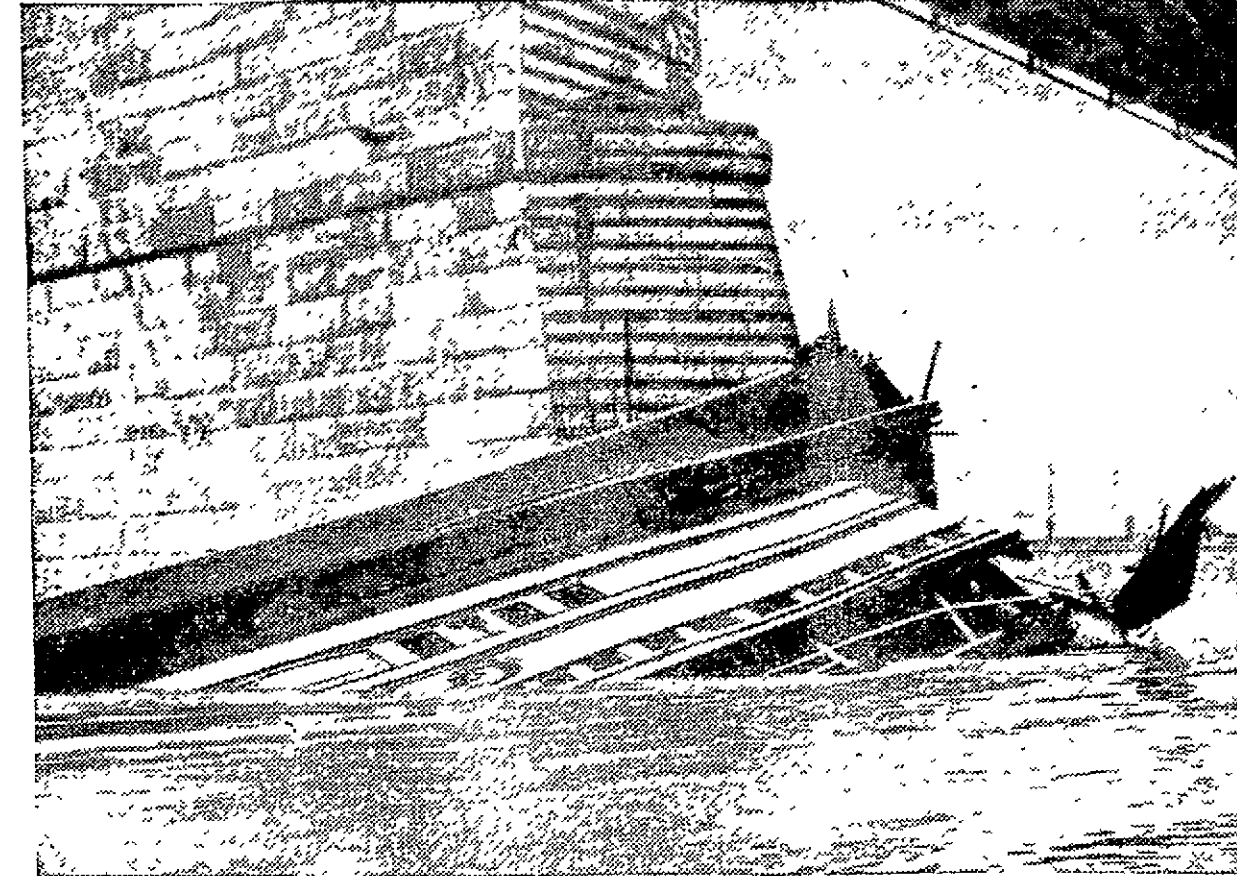

The juggling is clever, the rope skipping intricate and well-executed, the acrobatics smooth, the tumbling just what you would expect of a team out to win the State Championship for the third year in succession.

The performances began at 7:30 p. m. and end at 9:00. If you want a real entertainment, be there on Tuesday or Wednesday night. Tickets are 15 and 25 cents, including tax, and they will be on sale at the door. Be sure you get there by 7:30 if you want a seat. In a day when physical fitness is a national necessity Miss Elizabeth Eby and Homer Fleming are doing a remarkable piece of work in making and keeping our Warren young people healthy.

YOUR FEDERAL INCOME TAX

NO. 41
AUTOMOBILE DEDUCTIONS
With the number of automobile owners registering in the millions, the questions of deductions for the cost of operation and maintenance of a motor car frequently arises. The purchase price of an automobile, whether it is to be used for business or pleasure, cannot be deducted from gross income. If used for business, it is a capital expenditure. If used for pleasure, it is a personal expenditure—both deductions being expressly prohibited by the income tax law.

Several deductions, however, are allowable in connection with the cost of operation of an automobile used either for business or pleasure. If used exclusively for business, deductions may be taken for the cost of gasoline, oil, repairs, garage rent, amounts paid for insurance and other necessary operation and upkeep expenses, as well as damages paid for injury to another while the car was being used for business purposes and losses sustained by reason of damage to the car which will be used for such purposes, provided such damages and losses are not covered by insurance or otherwise. Depreciation based on the cost of the car and its estimated useful life also is deductible.

Other deductible items, irrespective of whether the car is used for business or pleasure, are sums paid during the taxable year for personal property taxes and municipal taxes, interest on money borrowed for the purchase of a car, and losses by fire or storm or theft, to the extent not compensated for by insurance or otherwise.

A loss occasioned by damage to an automobile, maintained for pleasure, where such damage results from the faulty driving of the taxpayer or other person operating the automobile, is not due to the willful act or negligence of the taxpayer, is a deductible loss in the computation of net income. If damage to a taxpayer's automobile results from the faulty driving of the operator of an automobile with which the automobile of the taxpayer collides, or is occasioned by the taxpayer, by such damage is likewise deductible.

Fees paid for automobile inspection and automobile title registration of automobiles used for pleasure are not ordinarily deductible.

Sports Roundup

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, Feb. 24—(Wide World) Baseball's farm system is moving into the fight racket. . . . Nothing like the Cards' chain gang, of course but Tommy Dio, manager of Maxie Berger, keeps out and coaches his fighters under his eye by providing free gym facilities. . . . He tells them to stick to amateur fights until he thinks they're ready to turn pro, then (here's the big surprise) he lets them pick their own managers. . . . Cleveland scribes will throw a dinner for Ed Bang on March 2 to celebrate his 35 years with the Cleveland News. . . . Freddie Hutchinson, who has been the figure for navy service early in March, he recently sent word to have his uniform and equipment shipped to Detroit's camp at Lakeland, Fla. . . . Minnesota football has shipped so badly since Bernie Bierman and Frank McCormick joined the armed forces that only 75 freshmen reported for winter practice.

Hospital Employees
Give Full Support
To Bond Purchases

Employees of the Warren State Hospital, North Warren, are participating one hundred per cent in the regular purchase of national defense savings stamps and bonds. It was announced today at the North Warren institution.

A campaign was staged during the period from January 15 to February 21, during which time a successful effort was made to have every employee take part in this program.

It was pointed out today that the success of the effort was not judged by the amounts to be contributed by the various employees, but by the patriotic spirit shown by those taking part.

"The employees have implicit faith in the government of the United States as the safest depository for their money," it was declared.

G. L. F. EXPANDS
FACILITIES FOR GIVING SERVICE

Because of the increasing business of Warren county farmers with the largest cooperative in this section, the G. L. F. Cooperative with warehouse on Irvine street below Pennsylvania avenue, arrangements have been made to receive dairy and poultry feed in carload lots. The pooling of purchasing in this manner makes it possible for G. L. F. to announce even lower prices than before in spite of rising grain markets.

The G. L. F. operates in New York state and northern Pennsylvania and sells approximately 40% of the feed used in the counties where a warehouse exists such as the one recently installed in Warren. Inasmuch as this cooperative is farmer-owned and operates without profit, it is able to offer the lowest possible prices for quality feed for its patron farmers and, at the end of each year, each farmer who has purchased in excess of $100 worth of mashes is entitled to a rebate proportionate to the profits.

The local agency is particularly fortunate to be located a block from the largest G. L. F. warehouse of farm supplies in this area and enormous inventories of roofing, siding, fencing, binder twine, milk cans and other farm necessities are available from stock. Farmers need not be members to take advantage of this new supply source.
